Let's Smile & Connect

Early childhood matters.
When you interact with kids, it helps build healthy brain connections.

Here are a few simple activities to incorporate into your everyday routine that will boost the development of children from birth to age three.

1 Smile back

2 Make eye contact

3 Listen to sounds

Face-to-face interactions with your kids, helps them grow healthier brains –
especially in their first three years.

Open your senses
and open their mind.
